

THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1911.

Published every week-day afternoon.
Subscriptions: One year, $3.00; one month, 25 cents; single copy, 1 cent.

Entered at the post office at Barre as second-class matter.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

A sure sign of approaching spring is the automobile agent activity in Barre.

Good-bye, Speaker "Joe" Cannon; you served your generation and lopped over on the next.

One thing to be said about these express company strikes in New York; they move off with express speed.

With a record of 528 deer killed in the last open season, Washington county can be called a happy hunting-ground.

New Hampshire's Senate beat Vermont's Senate in the size of the majority against the income tax amendment; and incidentally a party pledge was reduced to a mash.

Editor Frank L. Greene of the St. Albans Messenger is getting to be a newspaper patriarch, having served The Messenger twenty years. "Tempus does fugit," does it not, neighbor?

When Senator Max Powell got his new hotel exemption bill through the Vermont legislature, he neglected to tack on a rider to exempt the author from criticism by his fellow townsmen.

Brattleboro people are disappointed that their new federal building is to be a squat affair of only a single story, and they are trying to get another appropriation to make a more lofty structure, which, we are forced to confess, is another story.

HARDWICK'S DIFFICULTIES.

For the good of Hardwick, it is to be hoped that the expectations of an early adjustment of the granite wage difficulties are well founded. Some people had the same expectations in Barre a year ago; but in spite of that the suspension continued through the greater part of the winter. Hardwick is a great deal like Barre, in that it is dependent almost wholly on this single industry to maintain its prosperity, and naturally anything which stops the industry cripples the community very much indeed. The labor suspension comes at a lean time of the year, too, when pocketbooks of disputants are low because of more serious drains of the winter months. Moreover, it is time for the usual inrush of spring orders; and that inrush will be diverted from Hardwick in case of long-continued suspension in the business. Thus the reasons could be multiplied to encourage early adjustment of the differences.

TAFT GETTING RATHER BLUNT.

Just a strain of impatience shows in the reply of President Taft to ex-Gov. N. H. Bachelder of New Hampshire, master of the national grange, about the question of Canadian reciprocity. It manifests itself mostly in the brusqueness of the response, which reads as follows:

"I have yours of the 28th of February about reciprocity. I am sorry that I cannot agree with you. I don't think it will hurt the farmers, and a couple of years' test will prove it."

"Sincerely yours
(Signed) "William H. Taft."

Apparently President Taft is worked up to the more excited pitch of his administration thus far, and in that condition he is somewhat intolerant of opposition to a measure which he has set his heart upon. However, it is perhaps unreasonable to expect that the president would respond at length to ex-Gov. Bachelder's letter, inasmuch as he had covered the ground of his belief in the special message to Congress which was given out some weeks ago, in which

The right ties are what make life worth living.

Family ties, business ties, neckties, shoe ties.

Tie to this store for your clothes, and it will prove another pleasant tie and will help solve the knotty problems of getting the full value for your money.

We are now opening some novelties in Shirts, Ties, Collars and Hose.

he urged the adoption of the reciprocity agreement. It would be but a repetition to go over those points again in a letter to the master of the national grange. That understanding of the situation serves to soften the rather unexpected abruptness of the letter which was received by Mr. Bachelder on Thursday.

PROVIDING ARMORIES.

An article in the warning for the Rockingham town meeting, to see if the voters will appropriate $3,000 for a Vermont National Guard armory, recalls to mind that it was the lack of an armory which in part caused Barre to lose this same Company E, now located in Rockingham and which is desirous of securing proper accommodations. Perhaps there were other contributing causes to the removal of the company from Barre, but the fact that no suitable place for headquarters could be secured was certainly a very powerful agency. Therefore, Rockingham (including the village of Bellows Falls) can afford to be somewhat generous in its treatment of its branch of the state's military organization. Every town in the state which has a company of the Vermont National Guard ought to have an armory that is suitable for drilling purposes and for storage of equipment. It is an imposition to make the militia live in an attic and march over a two-by-four space in an effort to develop a knowledge of military science. We are not cognizant of the $3,000 asked of the voters is not extravagant by any means. The amount ought to be voted by the town in order to get the promised state aid.

The Senate Division.

It will be pretty difficult to find on any roll call of the United States Senate a group of men who are stronger with their constituents and are held generally in higher regard for their ability and integrity by the whole country than these twenty-two Republicans, who voted against Lorimer yesterday: Beveridge, Borah, Bourne, Bristow, Brown, Burdett, Burton, Clapp, Crawford, Cummins, Dixon, Gorman, Jones, La Follette, Lodge, Nelson, Page, Root, Smith of Michigan, Sutherland, Warner and Young.

These men do not represent the fossils or retroactive elements in the Republican party. Their verdict is the country's verdict and while people will differ with them on many subjects, it is a matter of congratulation that they have got together in so good a cause. Look at the other "bunch":

CHELSEA.

Vote to Observe Old Home Week the Coming Summer.

Mrs. Nellie A. Davis, who has been spending the winter with friends in Chicopee Falls, Mass., has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Curtis Dane, on the west hill.

Miss Una Allen of Randolph was a visitor in town recently and while here was the guest of Misses Rachael and Sylvia Comstock.

W. H. Sprague was in Barre City on Wednesday evening to attend the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Granite Mutual Insurance company and the annual banquet of the directors, which followed.

Frank C. Dickinson, who took an enforced vacation from his work as clerk in the store of J. A. R. Corwin & Son by reason of an attack of the grippe, has so far recovered as to be able to return to duty again.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gates are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter on February 25.

At the sheriff's sale conducted by Deputy George A. Tracy Tuesday afternoon there was a large attendance, and contrary to precedent the property sold for high figures. F. J. Ackerman of Vershire wielded the hammer.

Miss Nora M. Andrews of Vershire, a niece of Mrs. A. W. Swinney, was married on February 22, at Lyme, N. H., to Owen B. Lamont of Lyme.

Albert S. Camp has moved his family to North Tunbridge into the house near the Benson place, saw mill which, with the mill, his sons, Harold and Dean, purchased of Mr. Giles a few months since. The older son, Harold, will run the mill for the present and the younger son, Dean, will remain in the employ of the Electric Light & Power company as their electrician.

At a meeting of the members of the Old Home Week association held at the town clerk's office Tuesday evening, there was a large attendance and all present not only seemed favorably impressed, but were enthusiastic over the idea of observing old home week this year and voted so to do and elected the following officers: President, Col. H. O. Bixby; first vice president, E. A. Corwin; second vice president, W. H. Sprague; secretary, John M. Comstock; treasurer, J. A. R. Corwin; executive committee, E. D. Barnes, O. D. Tracy, C. H. Barrow, H. N. Sanborn and O. F. Allen.

Rev. Fred Daniels left the first of the week on a business trip which took him to Boston and he returned Thursday evening.

The house and horse barn, which joined the house, on the farm on the west hill owned by Frank A. Libbey, were destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. The fire caught from a defective chimney, which passed up through one of the chimneys. Mrs. Libbey and her infant son were spending the night at the home of her father, Wilbur Smith, and Mr. Libbey was in the house alone and was not awakened by the fire until it had got beyond his control and he succeeded in saving only a small portion of the household goods. The large stock barn, which stood nearly a hundred feet from the buildings which burned, did not catch fire. The loss which is a severe one to Mr. Libbey was only partially covered by insurance.

MONTPELIER.

H. O. Kent and John F. Dobbs, deputy game wardens, were in East Montpelier Thursday to investigate a case where dogs had chased a deer. The animal was found with one eye torn out, the skin bitten from hind and fore quarters and one foot completely chewed off, and was put out of its misery. The buck weighed 55 pounds and was less than a year old.

J. W. Brock, executor of the will of the late Homer Heaton, has conveyed to the city a strip of land, known as the Flatiron piece, at Berlin corner. The deed was given to clear up a title in which was feared there might be a flaw.

Dr. Don D. Groat of Waterbury has been appointed guardian of Mary LeMay, now in the state hospital for the insane. A bank book of $508 was found in her dress when she was taken there. This she had earned herself.

A daughter was born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis.

Lord brothers have sold their horse, Max S., to Harding of Barton for $1,000. This is the animal which made such a good record on the ice this season.
